State Contract # 986739 Goldstrike Reclamation and Monitoring

Correspondence with BLM and DWR

Doug, I went out to the mine site Thursday. The rain gauge at Guzzler # 2 showed a trace but the guzzlers had come up a little. They were at 3 inches from the top. I counted about 18 cows at the heap land application area. I thought range leases required cows to be off October. I'm going to give Dave Cory a call.

The heap off-flow was down to about 2.5 GPM. The East Fork is dry.

Hunting season opened today and I counted 14 campers at the Pony Express station and that was Thursday night. Every camp site was full and the dust from traffic was unbelievable and that was two days before the opening day. The county bladed the road to Butcher knife and Slaughter creek, they were in very good shape. People are camped where drilling was done several years ago on the Slaughter creek road. People are also parking camp trailers at the Forbes Cabin site.

I see tumble weeds coming on around the Arsenic culvert again. I'll wait for some wet weather and burn them so they don't plug the culvert with spring runoff. The cows are cleaning up the area around the land application area, leach pads and down the road by Beavertail pit.

That's all for this month-

Dan Slyter
